

Summer Camps

apple seeds celebrates 5 years of camp

Are you ready for some summer fun? Awarded “Best Day Camp for Little Kids” by Nickelodeon’s Parent’s Connect, camp apple seeds offers children ages 3-4 the opportunity to make new friends, learn and have fun in a safe, clean environment built especially for them. The program features daily themes with a hands-on approach to learning through activities like music, movement, crafts, science, cooking and construction. Kids will learn to share and work together, gain confidence and most importantly have a fun!

Jennifer Strausser, director of programming and creator of the popular apple seedlings: 2/3s separation program will be taking the helm as director of camp apple seeds this summer.

She says, “I am very excited to become a part of apple seeds’ award winning summer camp program. As the director of apple seeds classes, I bring an understanding and knowledge of this age group with me. I am looking forward to introducing new themes and fresh ideas to an already amazing program.

“This summer, we will travel around the world, go on a dinosaur dig, visit the moon and so much more! Our counselors will lead your children through daily activities, silly games and songs, and help them separate gently and smoothly right away.”

As one parent puts it,

“They are warm, professional and responsible, creative and inspiring.” Your children will love our unique and creative program – you’ll love hearing all about their adventures at the end of the day.

Camp apple seeds runs from June 13-September 2, Monday-Friday from 9:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. Each day starts with playtime in our sports gym, includes a healthy snack and ends with an art project.

We offer two-week sessions with flexible weekly schedules. Please call (212) 792-7590 or e-mail camp@appleseednyc.com for more information or to sign up.

Register by March 1 and receive 10 percent off your summer camp registration.
